LINE-X® PROTECTIVE COATINGS SPRAY-ON TRUCK BEDLINERS ARE NOW AVAILABLE AT NEW LOCATION WITH LINE-X OF QUINCY

-- New Local Business Offers Consumers and Businesses a Unique Way to Protect Their Vehicles and Equipment from the Elements --

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., (June 25, 2015) – LINE-X Protective Coatings, the nation's leading developer and provider of high performance protective coatings, is pleased to announce the grand opening of its newest extension location in Quincy, Illinois with LINE-X of Quincy on Friday, June 26. The new location is an expansion of the current successful Quincy franchise and will cater to retail consumers, local businesses and automotive dealerships in offering a range of protective coating services and products. Owned by Chuck Carlson, LINE-X of Quincy is conveniently located at 536 N. 54th St., Quincy, IL 62305.

"We are proud to have LINE-X of Quincy open for business," said Kevin Heronimus, CEO of LINE-X Protective Coatings. "We encourage everyone to stop by LINE-X of Quincy to learn about how LINE-X Protective Coatings are utilized not only as exceptional truck bed protection but also in light-industrial, commercial and home-based applications."

"I am thrilled to announce the opening of our newest shop in Quincy," said Chuck Carlson, Owner of LINE-X of Quincy. "When it comes to offering an exclusive aftermarket accessory product line and unparalleled spray-on bed-liners, LINE-X stands alone. That is one of the many reasons we chose to be a part of this team and why we have been so successful."

LINE-X Protective Coatings is the industry leader in truck bed protection, offering specially formulated polymers that permanently bond to the truck's bed for unmatched durability under the most extreme use. This high-quality spray-on application contours to the shape of the truck bed to seal and protect it from weather, road grime, scratches, dents and most household chemicals, while adding an attractive finish that both protects and enhances the value of the vehicle.

LINE-X continues to lead the marketplace with innovative products that provide unique solutions to customers in a variety of industries, including residential, commercial, light industrial and military applications. With new store LINE-X of Quincy, LINE-X's strong franchise networks continues to grow, now with over 500 specialized franchised locations in more than 48 countries.
